Writing Workshop for Youth

(Miami, OK): LEAD Agency will be hosting the first in a series of writing workshops at their office, the ROCK House, 2205 E. Steve Owens, Miami, OK 10:30 Monday morning, June 29 for area youth who have something to say about their environment.

High school students are invited to attend. "Bring your ideas, thoughts and concerns, we will furnish everything else you may need," said Rebecca Jim, executive director. Our youth understand that they are surrounded by environmental and health issues. We hope to give each an opportunity to write and express their concerns. Students from Miami, Quapaw and Picher have been submitting work for the last year for publication in volumes dealing with the tornado, flood, subsidence and relocation. Lela Horsechief, Picher English teacher, now retired, will be teaching the first session. Youth are encouraged to attend.
